Are you hot on the heels of Usain Bolt or would you be out of your depth against Rebecca Adlington? Divided into teams, each representing a different country, guests join in the fun with our fast paced 'Indoor Olympics' competition.

Strategy is key as guests are required to utilise their skills and choose the representatives best suited for each activity in a bid to be the best team overall.

With activities representing each of the key Olympic disciplines, the event follows a series of head to head activities with teams successively competing against each other.

Passions run high as the competition builds to a nail biting climax with the athletes pulling out all the stops to gain as many points as possible.

When the final round is finished and the room hushed in expectation, the scores are counted and verified under the watchful eye of the Master of Ceremonies. Then amid the cheers and jeers of their fellow contestants, the winners make their way to the podium for the victory presentation.
