- ✓ Time Management
- ✓ Problem Solving
- ✓ Communication
- ✓ Teamwork

An involving and strategic planning task, 'Save the Nation' sees your teams assuming responsibility for the recovery and development of a third world country following the restoration of democracy after a natural disaster.

To succeed, each guest must act as an integral member of the team. Each team member is given a specific 'job' role within their country's infrastructure and they must work together to pool the given information to research, plan and implement each phase of a nationwide recovery programme.

Resources are limited still each team must successfully improve the lives of their citizens and set their nation on the road to economic prosperity. Updates via 'CNN' and real time events add to the unfolding drama - unforeseen complications and associated risks mean tough decisions will need to be made.

'Project: Save the Nation' is a fun, interactive and involving task that inspires creative and ordered planning and implementation.
