Imagine standing on stage singing your favourite song to the applause of the crowd. Will you be Robbie, Britney or even Girls Aloud.... it's your choice. And you don't even need to be able to sing as effort counts for everything.

Divided into groups and choosing from of a selection of backing tracks, each team will perform their own version of a well-known classic. Lyric sheets and costume accessories are also provided to help everyone perfect their performance. There are plenty of opportunities for individuals to shine in additional roles including producer, choreographer and vocal coach. After an afternoon meticulously polishing their performances, your guests retire to change for dinner before the evening entertainment begins.

The X-treme Factor hopefuls will enter the dining room by taking their place on the Red Carpet within an explosion of paparazzi flashlights to be greeted by clips of rehearsals filmed earlier. After dinner, your compere will introduce each act in turn as they take centre stage and perform live to their audience.

Criticism from the optional 3 look-a-like judges may be harsh, so your performers will need nerves of steel to make their way through to the final. After the last act has performed, two acts will be chosen for the final and the sing off. Will your act win?
